Draft Procedures

Number of Players and Boosters

Each player in the pod receives 6 Dragon Brawl Booster Packs from the same Draft Box. Players may not use any other participation prizes in their deck construction.

Deck Construction

Players build decks consisting of a Leader Card and 50 non-Leader cards. In Draft format, a deck may contain more than four copies of a single card. Any cards not included in the deck may be used as sidebar cards in between rounds.

Draft Rules

1. Each player receives their specified boosters for the draft, and takes an assigned seat at the draft pod table.
2. All players open 1 booster pack, and ensure it includes 12 cards. If a booster contains more or less cards than it should, immediately notify a judge.
3. Each player takes a card of their choosing from the booster they opened, places it face-down in front of them, and passes the remaining cards face-down to the player on their left. Don't show other cards what you have picked during this process!
4. Each player then picks a card from the stack they just received before passing again.
5. Repeat Step 4 until all cards from each booster pack have been drafted.

6. Return to Step 2, and repeat the steps in order. However, for the second, fourth, and sixth booster packs, players pass to the player on their right instead of their left.
7. After all boosters have been opened and cards drafted, players use the cards drafted to construct a 50-card deck, consisting of 50 non-Leader cards and a Leader.
8. All players must use the Leader Card included with this product.

Card Distribution

Players will keep whatever cards they selected during the draft.

Notes

1. Players may check the cards they have drafted at any time provided they do not have any other cards in their hand.
2. When a card is placed face-down in a player's pile of drafted cards, that card is considered taken and may not be returned to the booster.
3. The players must be careful not to show other players any cards they have selected during the draft or any cards in the booster they are currently choosing from.
4. Players cannot in any way signal information to other players about which cards they have taken or which cards they want other players to take.
5. Players may utilize their full drafted card pool from that specific pod as a sideboard between rounds.
